1) Organization: Elite Techno Groups

   Training Area: Python AI/ML Internship
   Objective: To develop following skills and projects:
   1) Live Learning Session on Python Programming
   2) JSON Based Inventory Management System

   Description:

   1. Live Learning Session on Python Programming

      In these live sessions I was trained for the basic as well as advanced python language concepts and Implementation for the same.

   2. JSON Based Inventory Management System

      This Project aimed to develop an Inventory management system using python and for storing data JSON files are used. First of all, we had created sample data by using python code itself and then created all functions one by one. Then, open JSON files on each function and loading JSON data in python dictionary format and again reverse the process of converting dictionary data back to JSON format then closing the file.

2) Organization: Funoppia

Training Area: Content Writing Python Internship.

Objective: To learn various skills in this field.

Description:

This Internship helped me to practice my python skills by giving me opportunity for writing content for them. The quote they always used to say, our mission is to democratize education such that no one is left behind. My daily task was to create assignments and notes for their courses, Also to write engaging blogs and articles on tech and non tech topics to publish on the website and I assist them in making their website more functional.

Academic projects:

1. Title: Time Table Management System using php

Description:

Modern problems need modern solutions, the main objective of this project is to build a web based schedule system which provides a user-friendly, quality and simple to maintain time table management system. This project aimed to solve the real problems of existing methods used to manage the time table.

Technologies: Html, CSS, PHP, Xampp, mysql and vscode editor
Duration: 4-5 months
Team Size: 2
Role: Lead
Responsibilities:

This projects required a lot of hard work and concentration. I worked on all the parts of this project all the technical work was done either by me or under my observation.

2. Title: X-Meme A web Based meme listing service

Description:

The need of good quality memes is in huge demand despite the apparently infinite supply of memes on various social media websites. This is because in many cases the good creators are being overshadowed by popular meme creators and they should get a platform of their own. So, X-Meme is a platform where not anyone can post their content without a prior quality check, creators can share their memes which will be checked for quality and only after that be listed on the website.
